Commitment towards providing a stress free learning and teaching environment that develops competent, confident, contributive and enterprising students who will support and promote secularism, communal harmony and peace in society.

mission

the chairman

Dear Friends and Prospective Parents,

We are planning a unique school for all quality conscious parents. The vision of SDPS Family has always been "Empowering Women through Quality Education" from not only their grown up stages but also from their formative school days.

With this in view, SDPS International Girls' School will commence functioning and will definitely be the answer to the ever-changing education scenario which is undergoing constant up-gradation in terms of technology and curriculum. Friends, you can very well realize, how serious and ambitious we all are, about the future of this dream school.

It will be our most sincere effort to empower our teachers with adequate backup support to mould young girls in an ideal school atmosphere so that they can comprehend complex concepts with ease with the help of smart class methods, which these days are fast becoming the most sought after new approach to quality education.

We do hope that our dream of offering the very best of education to the girls of Indore and nearby places will soon bear fruits, and soon these young girls will make us very proud of their path-breaking achievements as they grow up into young adults with phenomenal success in their chosen field of activities.

Dear Parents,

We are happy to extend our hands to hold yours in our effort to offer girls one of the best options in quality education in Indore.

When it comes to education, with stress on quality, I am sure you will admit that it is the teachers who play the most vital role in moulding the tender minds of children into adorable young adults with path breaking achievements.

This enormous responsibility puts a great deal of onus on teachers and with the phenomenal advancement in technology and increasing challenges in the educational system, a teacher's job has become more demanding and at times, highly stressful. It has therefore become more essential than ever, to ensure that their task, to groom students, is made far more interesting and effective than ever.

We, at SDPS family, take great pride in introducing an ultra-modern school with enormous stress on developing the global outlook with adherence to Indian values.

Let us all join hands and contribute our minds in building a wonderful future for our children.

To that utopian future of perfection, we dedicate this school to the nation in general and to the people of Indore in particular.

We wish you and your daughter a brilliant future.

the principal

The SDPS International Girls' School will stress on Global Vision and Indian Values for girls in this new and upcoming school where a great deal of emphasis will be laid on the age-old Indian value system as professed by great thinkers and philosophers since time immemorial.

One of the chief dictums of this value system has been to respect elders and teachers and live with harmony with others with love and tolerance. Human Values, as enshrined in the Bhagwat Geeta, Bible, Holy Koran or the Guru Granth Sahib, always teach us to rise above the ordinary temptations and never to use power to subdue or exploit others.

The higher values are born when the mind is trained to be enlightened through teachings during the most formative years of the child during her school days.

Values are the messages of our heart in the language of compassion, selflessness, love and concern for others and respect for elders.

Abraham Lincoln was once told by one of his admirers, "I wish I had a mind like you, I would have then been such a nice human being". To this Lincoln's reply was "Be a good human being and the rest will follow." We in this new International School for Girls will definitely devote a great deal of time and energy in offering value based education and create good human beings out of these girls and leave these brilliantly groomed girls to do the rest.

Our goal will be to make a "Complete Girl", stressing on the physical, the intellectual, the emotional and spiritual integration of the individual into nice human beings who would have a Global Vision and aim for the sky, be grounded as Indians with our own ethical Indian Values, full of love and concern for others and noble and just for everyone.

Let us hope and pray that our sincere efforts to groom young girls into ideal women will soon bear fruits and we shall all be proud of our creations, you as parents, and we as members of this International Girls' School.

when it comes to educating a girl child, we are thoughtfully sensitive.

Believing in the philosophy of how well one is educated, rather than how much one is educated, the quality education at SDPS International Girls' School aims to bring a holistic change in the lives of students by simulating curiosity, love of learning, team-spirit, moral values, multiple intelligence through dynamic, insightful, sensitive and comprehensive teaching methodology.

What we do that others don't do.

- Quality Education at an affordable fee -
We provide quality education, given by the most dedicated and qualified teachers at the most affordable cost, so as to make education available to one and all, which is also our educational philosophy.
